SOURCE (ENGLISH, UNOFFICIAL)

(1) A person who, exploiting another person's personal or financial predicament or their helplessness associated with their stay in a foreign country, recruits, transports, passes on, accommodates or takes in that person, or who recruits, transports, passes on, accommodates or takes in another person under the age of twenty-one, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term of six months to five years if 1. that person is to be exploited a) in the practice of prostitution or in the performance of sexual acts on or in front of the perpetrator or a third person, or in the submission to sexual acts on themselves by the perpetrator or a third person, b) through employment, c) in the practice of begging, or d) in the commission by that person of acts punishable by law, 2. that person is to be held in slavery, serfdom, debt bondage or in conditions equivalent or similar thereto, or 3. that person is to have an organ unlawfully removed. Exploitation through employment within the meaning of sentence 1, point 1(b) occurs where, driven by a reckless pursuit of profit, the employment takes place under working conditions that are grossly disproportionate to the working conditions of employees engaged in the same or a comparable occupation (exploitative employment). (2) A person who, with the intention of exploiting another person in the manner described in paragraph 1, sentence 1, points 1 to 3, 1. recruits, transports, transfers, harbours or accommodates that person by means of violence, threats of serious harm or deception, or 2. abducts or seizes that person, or facilitates their seizure by a third party. (3) In the cases referred to in paragraph 1, a term of imprisonment of between six months and ten years shall be imposed if 1. the victim is under the age of eighteen at the time of the offence, 2. the offender physically abuses the victim severely during the offence, or, through the offence or an act committed during the offence, at least recklessly exposes the victim to the risk of death or serious harm to health, or 3. the offender acts professionally or as a member of a gang that has joined together for the purpose of continuously committing such offences. In the cases referred to in paragraph 2, a term of imprisonment of between one and ten years shall be imposed if any of the circumstances referred to in sentence 1, points 1 to 3, apply. (4) In the cases referred to in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3, first sentence, an attempt is punishable.

RECONSTRUCTION FROM THE SUBSTRATE

Committed by any person (the actor) who: (({Actor} recruits {Person} or {Actor} transports {Person} or {Actor} passes {Person} on or {Actor} accommodates {Person} or {Actor} takes {Person} in) and ((({Actor} exploits the situation of {Person} and (the personal predicament of {Person} or the financial predicament of {Person} or the helplessness of {Person} associated with their stay in a foreign country)) or (PersonAge < AgeLimit21)) and ((({Person} is to be exploited and ((in the practice of prostitution or (the act is a sexual act within the meaning of §184h and ({Person} performs the act on {Actor} or {Person} performs the act in front of {Actor} or {Person} performs the act on a {ThirdPerson} or {Person} performs the act in front of a {ThirdPerson} or {Person} submits to the act performed on {Person} by {Actor} or {Person} submits to the act performed on {Person} by a {ThirdPerson})))) or (through employment and (the employment is driven by a reckless pursuit of profit and the working conditions are in gross disproportion to the comparison conditions and (employees engaged in the same occupation or employees engaged in a comparable occupation)))) or in the practice of begging or in the commission by {Person} of acts punishable by law)) or ({Person} is to be held and (slavery or serfdom or debt bondage or conditions equivalent thereto or conditions similar thereto)) or (an organ is to be removed from {Person} and unlawfully)).

Assembled only from the variable surface forms (including the actor) and the computable structure carried in the XSD, not from the source column. It should read as the offence. This is the recoverability test: the law is reverse–derivable from the substrate.

RECURSION / RE-ENTRY NOTES

No runtime re-entry. The operome is a single forward evaluation: inputs → act computable(s) → Tatbestand composite → prohibition verdict. Attempt and preparation, where the section provides for them, are separate operomes, not re-entries.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [HumanTrafficking] depends on [Leg1aActs], [Leg1a], [Leg3], [ExploitedSituation], [PersonUnder21], [Para1Basis], [ExploitativeEmployment], [Leg1b], [Leg1], [HeldConditions], [Leg2], [ExploitationPurpose], [TraffickingActs] plus composed [SexualActs]; none refer back to [HumanTrafficking]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.
- Composition by canonical name is acyclic: the composed operome is read once and does not reference this one back.

SCOPE
Paragraph 1 only, with both limbs and all three exploitation–purpose legs, plus sentence 2 (the exploitative–employment definition), encoded live. Struck whole per the marked-up source: paragraph 2 (the means and abduction variant with the exploitation intention), paragraph 3 (both aggravation sentences) and paragraph 4 (attempt).

TRANSLATION NOTE
The draft English layer renders limb 1 as a bare “exploits another person’s distress”, severing it from the trafficking verbs. In the German, the five verbs (anwirbt, befördert, weitergibt, beherbergt, aufnimmt) stand once at the end and govern both limbs by elision: limb 1 is the five acts done while exploiting the person’s personal or financial predicament or foreign–country helplessness; limb 2 is the five acts done in respect of a person under twenty–one, with no means element. The source column expands the elision so both limbs carry the verbs; the markup renders the verbs in each limb bound to the same five variables (one variable per Merkmal).

PROSPECTIVE PURPOSE LEGS RETAINED (DELIBERATE)
The “werden soll” structure (“is to be exploited”, “is to be held”, “is to have an organ removed”) is a prospective element of the objective Tatbestand and is live in the markup, consistent with the Operomise tag and the §176b precedent on retained intent legs. `{IsToBeExploited}` and `{IsToBeHeldIn}` are prospective gates spanning their purpose objects; whether the prospect existed in fact is evaluative and escalates.

EXPLOITATIVE–EMPLOYMENT DEFINITION AUTHORED HERE
Sentence 2 authors `[ExploitativeEmployment] = {RecklessPursuitOfProfit}` and `{GrosslyDisproportionate}` and `([ComparedToSameOccupation] or [ComparedToComparableOccupation])`; leg 1(b) consumes it (`[Leg1b] = {ThroughEmployment}` and `[ExploitativeEmployment1]`). §232a, §232b and §233 reference this section’s exploitation concepts and will resolve against this scope by name.

SEXUAL–ACT MODALITIES DECOMPOSED
Leg 1(a)’s coordinated prepositions and parties decompose into six modality variables (performance on or in front of `{Actor}` or a `{ThirdPerson}`; submission to acts by `{Actor}` or a `{ThirdPerson}`), disjoined in `[Leg1aActs]`, per the §176b modality precedent; the prostitution alternative stands beside them in `[Leg1a]`.

SEXUAL ACT
`[SexualActs]` (§184h, by name) for the leg 1(a) occurrences.

STRIKES
The penalty in (1) and the whole of (2), (3) and (4) struck in the markup only; the source column is clean.

TREATMENT
§232 is Operomise–tagged.

RECURSION / RE-ENTRY NOTES

No runtime re-entry. The operome is a single forward evaluation: inputs → act computable(s) → Tatbestand composite → prohibition verdict. Attempt and preparation, where the section provides for them, are separate operomes, not re-entries.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [ForcedProstitution] depends on [VictimStatus], [Para6Conduct], [ExploitedSituation], [Para6], [Leg2Acts], [PersonUnder21], [Para1Basis], [Leg1], [Leg2], [Para1], [Para3Means], [Para3] plus composed [SexualActs]; none refer back to [ForcedProstitution]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.
- Composition by canonical name is acyclic: the composed operome is read once and does not reference this one back.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1 (both limbs, the prostitution leg and the exploited-acts leg), paragraph 3 (the means variant) and paragraph 6 sentence 1 (the remunerated-acts-on-a-victim offence) encoded live. Struck per the marked-up source: (2) attempt, (4) the §232(3) aggravation cross-reference, (5) lesser cases, and (6) sentence 3 (the voluntary-report personal exemption).

TRANSLATION NOTE Two readings against the German. First, as in §232, the draft English layer severs limb 1 from the governing verb: “veranlasst” (induces) stands once and governs both limbs by elision; the source column expands the elision. Second, in (6) sentence 1, “von ihr an sich vornehmen lässt” is the §177-family modality (the actor has the victim perform the acts on the actor), which the draft English layer inverts as “allows such acts to be performed on them”; bound to {HasVictimPerformOnActor}.

EDITED REMNANT IN (6) SENTENCE 2 (DELIBERATE) The markup does not strike (6) sentence 2 whole: the markup strikes the surrounding sentence but retains “zumindest leichtfertige Unkenntnis ... der Umstände” (at least reckless unawareness of the circumstances). Encoded as {AtLeastRecklessUnawareness} in a recorded rule (FPR-R80) outside the composite: it is a mental element, its statutory consequence is a mitigated range (sentencing, does not compile), and its intended wiring is not determinable from the markup alone. It remains a recorded element outside the composite.

MEANS VARIANT LIVE HERE, STRUCK IN §232 Paragraph 3’s means triad (violence, threat of serious harm, deceit) is live here although the structurally similar §232(2) was struck in §232; both follow the markup exactly and the asymmetry is recorded as deliberate.

CROSS-REFERENCES RESOLVE BY NAME {VictimOfTrafficking} resolves against the §232 scope by name; the embedded reference to §232(2) points at text struck in the §232 operome and is carried in the reference’s words only. {VictimOfOffenceUnderThisSection} references paragraphs 1 to 5 of this section, of which only (1) and (3) are encoded; victim status under the struck paragraphs resolves as an input.

SEXUAL ACT {SexualActs} (§184h, by name) for every occurrence.

TREATMENT §232a is Operomise-tagged; the prospective and exploitation elements are encoded as written and their existence in fact escalates at the margin.

RECONSTRUCTION FROM THE SUBSTRATE

Committed by any person (the actor) who: ((({Actor} exploits the situation of {Person} and (the personal predicament of {Person} or the financial predicament of {Person} or the helplessness of {Person} associated with their stay in a foreign country)) or (PersonAge < AgeLimit21)) and {Actor} induces {Person} and (((the employment is exploitative employment within the meaning of Section 232(1) sentence 2 and ({Person} is to take up the employment or {Person} is to continue the employment)) or ({Person} is to place themselves in the circumstances and (slavery or serfdom or debt bondage or circumstances corresponding thereto or circumstances similar thereto)) or ({Person} is exploited in the begging and ({Person} is to take up the begging or {Person} is to continue the begging)))).

Assembled only from the variable surface forms (including the actor) and the computable structure carried in the XSD, not from the source column. It should read as the offence. This is the recoverability test: the law is reverse-derivable from the substrate.

[ForcedLabour] is true → objective conditions realised → conduct PROHIBITED (subject to permissions / exceptions)

[ForcedLabour] is false → not realised

RECURSION / RE-ENTRY NOTES

No runtime re-entry. The operome is a single forward evaluation: inputs → act computable(s) → Tatbestand composite → prohibition verdict. Attempt and preparation, where the section provides for them, are separate operomes, not re-entries.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [ForcedLabour] depends on [HeldConditions], [Leg1], [PersonUnder21], [Leg3], [ExploitedSituation], [Para1Basis], [Leg2]; none refer back to [ForcedLabour]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1 only: both limbs over {Induces}, with the exploitative–employment leg, the servitude leg and the exploited–begging leg. Struck whole per the marked-up source: (2) attempt, (3) the means variant, (4) the mutatis reference to §232a(4) and (5).

TRANSLATION NOTE As in §232 and §232a, the draft English layer severs limb 1 from the governing verb “veranlasst”; the source column expands the elision so both limbs carry {Induces}.

DELIBERATE ASYMMETRY WITH §232A The means variant (violence, threat of serious harm, deceit) is live in §232a(3) but struck here in §232b(3); both follow the markup exactly and the asymmetry is recorded as an editorial decision.

DEFINITION CONSUMED BY NAME {ExploitativeEmployment} resolves against the §232 scope, where sentence 2 authors the definition; here it is a status predicate on the employment, per the by–name leaf pattern.

PROSPECTIVE LEGS RETAINED The infinitive purpose structure (“is to take up”, “is to place themselves”) is prospective and live per the Operomise tag, consistent with §232; existence of the prospect in fact escalates.

TREATMENT §232b is Operomise–tagged.

§233 · Exploitation of labour

ExploitationOfLabour · provenance StGB 233 · (1) and (5) encoded; (2)-(4) struck

SOURCE (ENGLISH, UNOFFICIAL)

(1) A person who exploits another person, taking advantage of their personal or financial predicament or their helplessness associated with their stay in a foreign country, or who exploits another person under the age of twenty-one, 1. through employment as defined in Section 232(1), second sentence, 2. in the practice of begging, or 3. in the commission by that person of acts punishable by law, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years or a fine. (2) A term of imprisonment of between six months and ten years shall be imposed if 1. the victim is under the age of eighteen at the time of the offence, 2. the offender physically abuses the victim severely during the offence or, through the offence or an act committed during the offence, at least recklessly exposes the victim to the risk of death or serious harm to health, 3. the perpetrator places the victim in financial distress by wholly or partially withholding the remuneration customary for the victim's work, or significantly exacerbates an existing financial distress, or 4. the perpetrator acts as a member of a gang which has formed with the intention of committing such offences on a continuous basis. (3) An attempt is punishable. (4) In less serious cases under paragraph 1, the penalty shall be imprisonment for up to two years or a fine; in less serious cases under paragraph 2, the penalty shall be imprisonment for a term of three months to five years. (5) A person who facilitates an offence under paragraph 1(i) by 1. arranging exploitative employment (Section 232(1), second sentence), 2. letting business premises, or 3. letting residential premises to the person to be exploited, shall be punished with imprisonment for up to two years or a fine. Sentence 1 shall not apply if the offence is already punishable by a more severe penalty under other provisions.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [ExploitationOfLabour] depends on [PersonUnder21], [ExploitedSituation], [Para1Basis], [Model], [Para1], [FacilitationMeans], [Para5]; none refer back to [ExploitationOfLabour]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.

FLAGS

- SCOPE Paragraph 1 (both limbs over {ExploitsPerson}, with the employment, begging and punishable-acts modes) and paragraph 5 (the facilitation variant with its live subsidiarity sentence) encoded. Struck per the marked-up source: (2) the four aggravations, (3) attempt, (4) lesser cases.
- VERB STRUCTURE Unlike §232a and §232b, the governing offence verb here is “ausbeutet” ({ExploitsPerson}); “unter Ausnutzung” is the means in limb 1 and is carried separately as {TakesAdvantage} spanning the predicament objects. The English carries this structure; only the verb sharing across limbs is made explicit.
- LIVE SUBSIDIARITY (RULE 12) Paragraph 5 sentence 2 (“Sentence 1 shall not apply if the offence is already punishable by a more severe penalty under other provisions”) is live in the markup and is encoded as {MoreSeverePenaltyElsewhere} is false inside [Para5], per the §184j pattern.
- DEFINITION CONSUMED BY NAME {ExploitativeEmployment} resolves against the §232 scope in both paragraph 1 mode 1 and paragraph 5 point 1; {OffenceUnderPara1No1} resolves against this section’s own [Para1] by name as a fact about the facilitated principal act.
- TREATMENT §233 is Operomise-tagged; exploitation in fact is evaluative at the margin and escalates.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1, the single-sentence seizure offence with its means triad and both purpose legs; (2) lesser cases struck per the marked-up source.

TRANSLATION NOTE The draft English layer renders “um sie in hilfloser Lage auszusetzen” as “to place them in a helpless situation”; “auszusetzen” is to abandon (the §221 verb), rendered as “to abandon them in a helpless situation” and bound to {ToAbandonInHelplessSituation}.

PURPOSE LEGS RETAINED (DELIBERATE) The um-zu purposes are live per the markup and the Operomise tag, encoded as prospective conditions per the §232 pattern; “military or military-like” splits into two coordinated establishment objects under the {ToBeSubjectedToService} gate.

MEANS TRIAD “mit Gewalt, durch Drohung mit einem empfindlichen Übel oder durch List” carries this section’s English vocabulary ({Violence} “force”, {ThreatOfSeriousHarm}, {Deception}); the same German triad appears in §232a(3) with “deceit”, and the variable names carry the shared Merkmal.

TREATMENT §234 is Operomise-tagged.

Committed by any person (the actor) who: ((({Actor} removes {Person} from the custodian or {Actor} withholds {Person} from the custodian) and (the parents or a parent or the guardian or the carer) and (((PersonAge < AgeLimit18) and (violence or the threat of serious harm or deceit)) or ((PersonAge < AgeLimit14) and {Actor} is not a relative of the child))) or ((PersonAge < AgeLimit14) and (the parents or a parent or the guardian or the carer) and ((({Actor} removes {Person} from the custodian and {Person} is to be taken abroad) or ({Actor} withholds {Person} abroad and ({Person} has been taken abroad or {Person} has gone abroad of their own accord)))).

Assembled only from the variable surface forms (including the actor) and the computable structure carried in the XSD, not from the source column. It should read as the offence. This is the recoverability test: the law is reverse-derivable from the substrate.

RECURSION / RE-ENTRY NOTES

No runtime re-entry. The operome is a single forward evaluation: inputs → act computable(s) → Tatbestand composite → prohibition verdict. Attempt and preparation, where the section provides for them, are separate operomes, not re-entries.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [AbductionOfMinors] depends on [PersonUnder18], [Means], [Child], [Para2Leg2], [Para2Leg1], [Leg1], [Leg2], [Custodians], [Para2], [Para1]; none refer back to [AbductionOfMinors]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraphs 1 and 2: the removal and withholding offence in its means-based and non-relative variants, and the cross-border variant with its two legs. Struck per the marked-up source: (3) attempt, (4) to (6) aggravations and lesser cases, (7) the application requirement.

TRANSLATION NOTE The draft English layer of (1) is scrambled: in the German the verbs “entzieht oder vorenthält” stand once at the end and govern both numbered legs, and the custodian list attaches to the verbs, not to leg 2 alone. The source column is arranged so the verbs and the custodian objects govern both legs.

SANCTIONS PHRASE STRUCK PER STANDING RULE, UNMARKED IN THE SOURCE (DELIBERATE)

“Ebenso wird bestraft” at the head of (2) carries no strike in the markup, while every parallel occurrence (§180a, §182, §184e) is struck. The standing rule that sanctions phrases are always struck is applied; the phrase is struck in the markup and the unmarked deviation is recorded here.

CHILD TERM

“ein Kind” in legs 1(2) and (2) is the Code-wide child concept; [Child] = {PersonAge} < {AgeLimit14}, the threshold authored in §176 and §184b, resolving by name; leg 1(1) uses [PersonUnder18].

PURPOSE LEG RETAINED

(2)(1)’s “um es in das Ausland zu verbringen” is live per the Operomise tag, encoded as the prospective {ToTakeAbroad} per the §232 pattern.

TREATMENT

§235 is Operomise-tagged.

RECURSION / RE-ENTRY NOTES

No runtime re-entry. The operome is a single forward evaluation: inputs → act computable(s) → Tatbestand composite → prohibition verdict. Attempt and preparation, where the section provides for them, are separate operomes, not re-entries.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [ChildTrafficking] depends on [VictimRelation], [PersonUnder18], [Para2Leg1], [Para2S2], [NeglectedDuty], [Para2Leg2], [GainTail], [Para2S1], [Para1S1], [Para1S2]; none refer back to [ChildTrafficking]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1 sentences 1 and 2 (the giver and receiver variants) and paragraph 2 sentences 1 and 2 (the unauthorised mediation legs and the consent-payment variant) encoded. Struck per the marked-up source: (2) sentence 3 (the cross-border aggravation), (3) attempt, (4) aggravations, (5) the judicial discretion.

ENRICHMENT INTENTION RETAINED (DELIBERATE) “in der Absicht ... sich oder einen Dritten zu bereichern” is a mental element live in the markup, consistent with the Operomise tag and the §176b precedent: {ActsWithEnrichmentIntention} spans the coordinated objects {EnrichSelf} and {EnrichThirdParty}, disjoined with {ForRemuneration} in the shared [GainTail].

RECEIVER VARIANT ANCHORED BY REFERENCE Sentence 2's “in den Fällen des Satzes 1” is carried as {CaseUnderSentence1}, a status predicate resolving against [Para1S1] by name; the receiver's own conduct is {TakesIntoCarePermanently} and {GrantsRemuneration}.

TRANSLATION NOTE The draft English layer of (1) sentence 2 reads “receives remuneration”; the German “dafür ein Entgelt gewährt” is grants (pays) remuneration: the receiver of the child pays the giver. Rendered as “grants remuneration for doing so” and bound accordingly.

SANCTIONS PHRASES Both “Ebenso wird bestraft” occurrences struck inside the penalty strike runs; consistent with the standing rule.

TREATMENT §236 is Operomise-tagged.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1 sentence 1 only: the compulsion offence with its two-means triad and the marriage object. Struck per the marked-up source: (1) sentence 2 (the reprehensibility definition of unlawfulness), (2) the cross-border preparatory variant whole, (3) attempt, (4) lesser cases.

UNLAWFULNESS STANDS UNDEFINED (DELIBERATE) The markup strikes the Verwerflichkeit definition (sentence 2) while retaining "rechtswidrig" in sentence 1. {Unlawfully} therefore stands as an undefined qualifier: the substrate records it as a required input and the reprehensibility assessment that would resolve it escalates to a human. This is the same posture §240(2) will take if its parallel clause is struck.

MEANS PAIR §237's triad is two-membered (violence, threat of serious harm); deceit appears only in the struck (2). The variables carry the title-wide Merkmal names.

TREATMENT §237 is Operomise-tagged.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [ExtortionateKidnapping] depends on [Taking], [Concern], [Variant1], [Variant2]; none refer back to [ExtortionateKidnapping]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1, both variants: the taking with the extortion purpose, and the exploitation of a situation created by such an act. Struck per the marked-up source: (2) lesser cases, (3) the death aggravation, (4) the judicial mitigation and sincere-efforts sentence.

PURPOSE ELEMENT RETAINED (DELIBERATE) The um-zu purpose (exploiting the concern for the purpose of a §253 extortion) is live per the markup and the Operomise tag, encoded as the prospective gate {ToExploitForExtortion} spanning the two coordinated concern objects, per the §232 and §234 pattern. Whether the purpose existed in fact escalates.

ENCODING NOTE §239a was a first encoding, built directly under the current principles.

EXTORTION REFERENCE "Erpressung (§253)" is carried in the words of the purpose gate; §253 is outside the encoded corpus and resolves as part of the purpose input.

TREATMENT §239a is Operomise-tagged.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1, both variants: the taking with the coercion purpose and its three-membered threat content, and the exploitation of a situation created by such an act. Struck per the marked-up source: (2) the mutatis reference to §239a(2) to (4).

PURPOSE ELEMENT RETAINED (DELIBERATE) The um-zu coercion purpose is live per the markup and the Operomise tag: the compelled party pair, the threat content and the demanded conduct triad (act, toleration, omission) are coordinated objects in their own blocks with the disjunctions in governing computables.

THRESHOLD AS NAMED NUMBER “Freiheitsentziehung von über einer Woche Dauer” is encoded per the encoding principles: {ThreatenedDeprivationDuration} and {DurationLimitOneWeek} with the comparator computable [DeprivationOverOneWeek], gating the third threat leg.

TRANSLATION NOTE The draft English layer renders “Duldung” as “tolerance”; carried as “toleration” for the conduct triad, matching the §240 vocabulary.

ENCODING NOTE §239b was a first encoding, built directly under the current principles.

TREATMENT §239b is Operomise-tagged.

DECISION TREE

PHASE 1: gather inputs (Session)

- └ {Compels}
- └ {Person}
- └ {ThreatOfSeriousHarm}
- └ {ToOmit}
- └ {ToPerformAct}
- └ {ToTolerate}
- └ {Unlawfully}
- └ {Violence}

↓

PHASE 2: evaluate act / intermediate computables

- └ [Means] = Violence is true or ThreatOfSeriousHarm is true
- └ [DemandedConduct] = ToPerformAct is true or ToTolerate is true or ToOmit is true

↓

PHASE 3: evaluate the objective conditions

- └ [Coercion] = Compels is true and Unlawfully is true and Means is true and DemandedConduct is true

↓

VERDICT (PrimeRule)

- └ [Coercion] is true → objective conditions realised → conduct PROHIBITED (subject to permissions / exceptions)
- └ [Coercion] is false → not realised

RECURSION / RE-ENTRY NOTES

No runtime re-entry. The operome is a single forward evaluation: inputs → act computable(s) → Tatbestand composite → prohibition verdict. Attempt and preparation, where the section provides for them, are separate operomes, not re-entries.

CIRCULARITY CHECK

- [Coercion] depends on [Means], [DemandedConduct]; none refer back to [Coercion]. No definitional cycle.
- Each computable reduces to input Booleans; the graph is a DAG and topologically sortable. Tristate is monotone: any unknown input holds the composite at unknown rather than forcing a verdict.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1 only: the compulsion offence with the two-means pair and the conduct triad (act, toleration, omission). Struck per the marked-up source: (2) the reprehensibility definition of unlawfulness, (3) attempt, (4) particularly serious cases.

UNLAWFULNESS STANDS UNDEFINED (DELIBERATE) As in §237, the markup strikes the Verwerflichkeit clause while retaining “rechtswidrig”: {Unlawfully} is a required input whose resolution (the reprehensibility assessment of means against purpose) escalates to a human. The two sections now carry the identical posture.

RECONSTRUCTION FROM THE SUBSTRATE

Committed by any person (the actor) who: ({Actor} threatens {Person} and the threatened act is an unlawful act and (the act is directed against {Person} or the act is directed against a person close to {Person})) and (the sexual self-determination or the physical integrity or the personal liberty or property of significant value)) or ({Actor} misleads {Person} and against {Actor}'s better knowledge and the commission of a crime is imminent and (the act is directed against {Person} or the act is directed against a person close to {Person})).

Assembled only from the variable surface forms (including the actor) and the computable structure carried in the XSD, not from the source column. It should read as the offence. This is the recoverability test: the law is reverse-derivable from the substrate.

FLAGS

SCOPE Paragraph 1 (the unlawful-act threat with the four protected interests) and paragraph 3 (the crime-pretence variant) encoded. Struck per the marked-up source: (2) the crime-threat variant, (4) the publicity aggravation, (5) the complaint provisions.

STRIKE BOUNDARY IN (2) (DELIBERATE) The strike in (2) begins mid-sentence (at “Person gerichteten Verbrechens bedroht”), leaving the opening words unstruck. The remnant is a syntactic fragment with no verb and cannot stand as an element, so (2) is treated as struck whole; the imprecise boundary is recorded here, in contrast to §232a(6) where the remnant was a coherent retained phrase.

KNOWLEDGE ELEMENT RETAINED (DELIBERATE) “wider besseres Wissen” in (3) is live in the markup: encoded as {AgainstBetterKnowledge} per the §176b precedent on retained mental elements; its existence in fact escalates.

TRANSLATION NOTE The draft English layer of (3) renders “wider besseres Wissen” as “against their better judgement” and “vortäuscht, daß die Verwirklichung ... bevorstehe” loosely; the source column carries “against their better knowledge” and “misleads ... into believing that the commission ... is imminent”. “Sache von bedeutendem Wert” is carried as “property of significant value”.

ENCODING NOTE Encoded from verbatim source under the current principles.

TREATMENT §241 is Operomise-tagged.
